Slimline

Stepahead Slimline is specifically designed to fit both ladies and gentlemen's dress shoes. Intrinsic posting ensures they take the minimum amount of space in footwear but still allow functional control to be prescribed. A forefoot extension to the sulcus cushions the metatarsal heads and stops the orthotic sliding in the footwear.

When to specify?

Slimline is the perfect compromise solution. Its low profile specification means that patient compliance issues such as the heel lifting out of the shoes and toe compression are not a problem. Thus you can offer functional support to the foot and keep your patient happy.

When treating?

- Moderate amounts of pronation or supination
- Sagittal plane dysfunction
- General foot pain

In which shoes?

- Court shoes and high heels up to 3" high
- Men's brogues and dress shoes
- Football and rugby boots
- Ski boots and skates
